RETURN & EXCHANGE POLICY

1. Purpose

Weaver Bird Garment Manufacturers Ltd is committed to manufacturing and supplying durable, high-quality school uniforms, staff uniforms, institutional apparel, and other garments.

This Returns & Exchange Policy sets out the conditions and procedures applicable to requests for size exchanges, returns, manufacturing-defect claims, and other product-related concerns. The policy applies to both institutional orders and individual retail purchases, subject to the terms stated below.

2. General Conditions for Returns & Exchanges

To qualify for consideration for a return or exchange:

- Items must be unworn, unwashed, unaltered, and in their original condition, except where the return relates to an identified manufacturing defect.
- Items should be returned with their original packaging and labels, where applicable.
- Proof of purchase must be provided. Acceptable documentation may include an official receipt, invoice, delivery note, or other valid transaction record issued by Weaver Bird.
- Returned items are subject to inspection and verification before an exchange, repair, replacement, or other appropriate remedy is approved.
- Returns and exchanges must relate to garments originally supplied by Weaver Bird Garment Manufacturers Ltd.

3. Size Exchanges

Where a correctly supplied standard-size garment does not fit, a size exchange may be requested provided that the garment remains in its original, unused, and resalable condition.

Size exchanges are subject to availability of the requested replacement size.

For institutional orders manufactured or supplied according to an approved size schedule, measurement sheet, sample, or customer specification, requests resulting from changes to measurements after approval may be treated separately from manufacturing or supply errors.

4. Manufacturing Defects & Quality Claims

Weaver Bird will assess garments reported to have a manufacturing or workmanship defect.

Where inspection confirms that a product does not conform to the agreed specification or has a manufacturing defect attributable to Weaver Bird, the company may, as appropriate:

- Repair the affected garment;
- Replace the affected garment;
- Exchange the garment; or
- Provide another appropriate remedy agreed with the customer.

Normal wear and tear, accidental damage, misuse, failure to follow garment care instructions, or alterations performed after delivery are not considered manufacturing defects.

5. Incorrect Items or Order Discrepancies

Customers should inspect their order upon receipt and report any discrepancies, including incorrect garments, quantities, sizes, colours, or branding.

For institutional deliveries, any claim should reference the relevant Local Purchase Order (LPO), purchase order, invoice, or delivery note, where applicable.

Where Weaver Bird confirms that an incorrect item was supplied, appropriate arrangements will be made to rectify the order.

6. Customized & Branded Garments

Garments manufactured, embroidered, printed, labelled, altered, or otherwise customized according to a customer's approved specifications may not ordinarily be returned or exchanged due to a change of preference or incorrect customer-provided information.

However, this does not prevent a customer from raising a claim where the supplied garments have a verified manufacturing defect or do not conform to the specifications approved for production.

7. Items Not Eligible for Return or Exchange

Subject to applicable consumer rights, Weaver Bird may decline returns or exchanges for:

- Garments that have been worn, washed, damaged, stained, or altered after purchase;
- Garments without satisfactory proof of purchase;
- Customized or personalized garments where weaver bird supplied the product according to the approved specification;
- Products damaged through misuse or failure to follow appropriate care instructions; and
- Products showing normal wear and tear rather than a manufacturing defect.

8. Return & Exchange Procedure

Institutional Customers

Institutional customers should submit their request to Weaver Bird with:

- Institution/customer name;
- Relevant LPO, purchase order, invoice, or delivery note reference;
- Description and quantity of affected items;
- Reason for the return, exchange, or quality claim; and
- Any other supporting information reasonably required to assess the request.

Upon review, Weaver Bird will provide instructions regarding collection, inspection, replacement, repair, or other appropriate action.

Individual/Retail Customers

Individual customers should present the affected garment together with proof of purchase at the relevant Weaver Bird outlet or contact the company for guidance before returning the item.

9. Collection & Transportation

For institutional orders, where a return results from a verified manufacturing defect, incorrect supply, or other error attributable to Weaver Bird, the company may arrange collection and re-delivery of the affected garments.

Where an exchange is requested for reasons unrelated to an error by Weaver Bird, collection, return, and re-delivery arrangements may be agreed with the customer.

Individual retail customers may be required to return eligible items to the relevant Weaver Bird outlet for inspection and processing.

10. Inspection & Resolution

Receipt of a returned garment does not automatically constitute approval of a return, exchange, or quality claim.

All returned products may be inspected to establish their condition and verify the reason for the request. Weaver Bird will communicate the appropriate resolution following assessment.

Where an exchange is approved, replacement items remain subject to availability.
